Presented by Kevin Schoedinger
*Licensed Funeral Director and

At the conclusion of this program, counselors and social workers will be able to:

1. Describe 3 acceptable things to say or do for individuals or families mourning the death of someone special to them.
2. Describe 3 roles the funeral home plays in the grief and healing process.
3. Explain how economic factors affect decision-making for the financially challenged, and the ethical and moral treatment of this special population.

Call 614-429-5703 to schedule.

When we all work together and have a better understanding of our respective roles in the continuum of care, we have the means to provide better quality of care to the patients and families we both serve.

This program provides videos of:

- ◆ Cremation observation
- ◆ Private family gathering method of body identification
- ◆ Casket and urn selection options
