“ Thank you all so much for the wonderful memories shared. This is such a difficult time and having all of you as part of our lives...it just means so much. I don't have the words...though, Brian would since he was quite the wordsmith.

“ I love Deb and Brian like family and they will always hold a special place in my heart. My favorite story that I still tell to this day is when I helped them move to Ohio. They did not know I was a morning person until I burst into their room after three hours of sleep and said “Wakey wakey! The sun is shining, the birds are singing and it’s moving day!!!” Deb, barely alive, asked if the nail gun was already packed and Brian begrudgingly admitted that it was. I slowly crept out of the room and hid in the moving truck until they had each had a pot of coffee and were somewhat functioning human beings. I learned a valuable lesson that day and will always be thankful to them for that....and for the nail gun being out of reach.

“ Deb is my sister from different parents. Brian is my brother in law in every respect. I have so many wonderful memories with these 2 but , one of my favorites was when Deb made Brian tell me they were moving away. Lmao. He said he was scared to tell me. I cried and Deb cried and Brian just looked at us like “ OMG what am I gonna do with 2 crying women”. I love you Brian and will never let all those good memories fade. All my love and hugs Deb. Am always here just if you want to talk. Fly high Brian. First song Brian wrote and sung to me was “When I die just put me in a Hefty at the curb”. You deserve so much more.

“ I worked side by side with Brian in my early years. Brian had a magnetic personality which brought a very diverse group of guys together. This group remained tight for many, many years. Eventually some of us moved away, but that special time in our lives has never faded.

Gone but not forgotten.
