“ Peg, I happy that you are free from all of your pain but my selfish heart misses your sweet voice and kind words that you had for everyone. You are the kind of person that I will be thinking of 10 years from now just like I do today. PS you have beautiful wings!

“ Peggy Moore was MORE than just a friend to my family. She opened her home and heart to us during good times bad times. Peggy always had time to listen or just have a chat. Even when her health was declining she worried more about those caring for her than she worried about herself. She is so much happier now in the arms of her Savior Jesus Christ. Surely the next arms she ran into were Fred's. Oh the joy of knowing she is breathing without any trouble now! Miss you already, Peggy. See you later...

“ Oh, Mama I will never forget you letting me lie my head in your lap when I had panic attacks. How you rubbed me until I could breathe again. How many times did I call you from work because something or someone was getting to me and you just listened and told me honestly whether it was me or if I just needed to accepted that I couldn't change people. Who is going to know when I am getting sick now when I lie about it? You always knew. You always made me face it. You were one of my best friends and I don't know how I am going to do this without you. Hug my Daddy, Pawpaw and give Aunt Sharon a kiss from me. I miss you so much already.
