“ I love you Pap!

You weren't always easy to be around but I remember how much fun we used to have. You were stubborn, opinionated, loud and had no filter. I guess you could say we were a lot alike. My boys remember Paw teasing them-Calling them Power Puff girls, taking turns hiding a little doll in their shoes and his boots. Poppin' them to the chops, telling them from the day they were born Paw was gonna take them to find an ooh wow baby. Every grandchild was his 'Bestest Buddy' and they all loved their Paw.

I think I'm going to miss you more than even I'm willing to admit. I've missed you for a long time already. I hope your at peace now you've struggled so much here. Can't wait until we are all together again so we can pop a top and listen to some Bocephus.
